

Majestic Domestic

If you're seeing cannibalistic puppies scarfing sausage, cows posing with hamburgers, or random flying fruits, you're probably on something we'd love for you to share. These images are a daily occurrence, however, for artist Anne Coe, creator of the "Domestic Bliss" exhibition at the Chandler Center for the Arts, 250 North Arizona Avenue. Admittedly, Coe's work is "perfect for paranoid schizophrenics," but she adds that she wasn't put on this Earth to be rational — and, obviously, neither is her work. Take a trip and check it out; the free exhibition is open from Friday, September 3, through October 16. Visit www.chandlercenter.org. — C. Murphy Hebert
